Verse (1, 2)

1. Rock pi - geon struts down the cit - y street, bop - ping his head to a stead - y beat. He's look - ing for birds to join his band. He's a rock - ing rock pi - geon with a grand plan. He needs birds, yeah, birds. Now is that a bird? How can you tell? Did it hatch from an egg with a shell? Does it have feath - ers on its tail? If it does, all is well. It's a bird!

Chorus

Verse 2
Rock pigeon needs birds that walk,
birds that can fly, sing, and squawk,
birds that perch, birds that swim,
birds that can go out on a limb.
He needs birds, yeah, birds.

Chorus

Can you wad - dle like a pen - guin? Do the pi - geon strut? Can you flap your wings? Once is not e - nough!

Verse (3, 4)

Mock - ing - bird sings with - out a care. Hum - ming - bird's wings hum through the air. Os - trich thumps with two strong feet. Wood - peck - er drums with his point - y beak.

Verse 4
Rock pigeon struts across the stage.
The band's all here, and they've come to play.
They're making their music, singing their song,
asking the children to sing along.

Chorus

And If it does, all is well. It's a bird!
